

1. Easy (for a computer) to compute the hash for a string
2. Hard (takes way too long) to start with a hash value and construct a string that hashes to it
3. Impossible (or near impossible) to start with a string and find a different string that hashes to the same value -- ideal hash function will produce unique keys